Since its establishment in 1974 the Center for Japanese Studies (CJS) has consistently delivered high quality education. Every year more than 150 international students are engaging in intensive Japanese Language Program and Japanese Area Studies for one semester or a year as non-degree seeking students. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.

THE ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In addition to the dedicated language teachers, specialists from the social sciences and the humanities from the University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. University regular faculties contribute to the teaching in the program. Also, small classes, with fewer than 15 students, enable each student to engage in class discussion and pair/group work, and to receive individual attention. Students can choose to live with a Japanese family (homestay option) or with Japanese students (dormitory option) and various kinds of events with Japanese students are organized throughout the year.
From modest beginnings as a College of Foreign Languages in 1944, Nanzan took a small step to become a single Faculty of Arts and Letters in 1949 and has since grown into a fully-fledged university with a worldwide reputation for academic excellence. Today, Nanzan is Japan’s premier Catholic university, with approximately 10,000 students, including over 300 international students. With 8 undergraduate faculties and 5 graduate schools, as well as the Center for Japanese Studies, we continue to explore internationalization that is in sync with our educational motto “For Human Dignity.” By learning together with people from other cultures and languages, we get a more complete picture of what it means to be a human being, each of us becomes richer by learning first-hand, through actual experience and integration, about the great diversity that constitutes our common human dignity.

Why not come to Nanzan? You will be able to make your own, unique contribution towards building a global society that has human dignity as its central concern.

NANZAN UNIVERSITY AT A GLANCE

1949

Year founded “For Human Dignity”

8 Faculties

8 Undergraduate Programmes

17 Departments

17 Undergraduate Programmes

5 Graduate Schools

5 Graduate Programmes

9 Research Centers

9 Research Programmes

10,000 Undergraduate Students

300 Home and Abroad Students

500 Graduate Students

500 Home and Abroad Students

30 Countries

Over 30 Countries

300 from 20 Countries

Over 300 Students from 20 Countries

300,000

International Affairs

21 Countries

Over 21 Countries

50 Subjects conducted in English

50 Subjects in English

Social and Cultural Events

30 Events organized a year

80 Exchange Partners

80 Exchange Partners

21 International Course Categories

21 International Course Categories

200 Civic & Student Organizations

200 Civic & Student Organizations

20% of Students Study Abroad

20% of Students Study Abroad

98% of Our Students Get a Employment

98% of Our Students Get a Employment

Beautiful Campus

Design by Minoru Yamasaki, a famous Pacific American architect

One of the top 4

Japane University with a Global ranking according to Sutton University

At a glance

Student Clubs & Activities

At A Glance

Tuition Fees (in JPY)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Annual Tuition Fee</th>
<th>Admission Fee</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Undergraduate</td>
<td>1,048,000</td>
<td>1,048,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graduate</td>
<td>2,000,000</td>
<td>2,000,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tuition fees are subject to change.

SCHOLARSHIPS

- The Nanzan Scholarship
  - ¥150,000/year (up to ¥300,000/year)

- JASSO (Japan Student Services Organization)
  - ¥200,000 Scholarship

- MEXT (Monbukagakusho)
  - Governmental/Semi-Governmental Organization
  - ¥150,000 Scholarship

ACCOMMODATION

- Accommodation
  - Hiyosaka Hall
  - Shirakabe Hall

LOUNGES FOR SELF-LEARNING

- Learning Commons
  - Learning Commons is a self-service learning environment for all students.

LOUNGES FOR SELF-LEARNING

- Japan Plaza
  - Japan Plaza is a self-service learning environment for all students.

SUPPORT FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

- Tuition Fee Exemption
  - 50% exemption for international students with a “College Student” visa.