Collaboration (outline)	The course is delivered almost completely from Pontifical Xavier University in Bogota, Colombia. There were a few introductory classes delivered at Nanzan by myself and by Sophia University professors, complemented by some lectures which took place online via Zoom because of the Covid-19 pandemic.
duration	August 9 - September 13 2021 (80 hours)
How to evaluate students' achievement	The evaluation was done by the instructors who delivered the course from Colombia. They had access to each student's portfolio.
Comment	One of the students experimented a great learning and personal transformation by doing the course. Overall, it seems that in this kind of learning environment, students' self-commitment and interest play a much more important role than in an actual face-to-face fieldwork environment.
